

Dear Ms. Johnson,

Thank you for your response.

So, am I to understand that the Deputy's role is so important to the smooth running of the Office of the PCC and the Police and Crime Panel that it is in fact part-time?

I'm not expecting an answer from you personally, but perhaps you might eventually get around to asking the Deputy PCC what he thinks about the role being part-time and the fact that he was appointed by one of his ERYC chums.....perhaps the Dep. PCC might even publish why, if the job is so, so vital on a pay scale of £45K, he thinks it should be part time?

Regards & thanks for taking the time to respond,

PS: You might also like to respond under the FOIA:

- What are the total costs of the new PCC organisation.
- How much that cost differs to the old arrangements of the Police Authority etc.
- How many Police Constables could be appointed for the total cost of the organisation that you've outlined in your attachment.
