The Commissioner's Chief Executive will subject all of the Commissioner's claims for expenses to rigorous verification and auditing.

Any claims for exceptional expenses incurred by the Commissioner in the exercise of the Commissioner's functions will require the approval of the Commissioner's Chief Executive. In considering whether to grant this approval the Chief Executive shall take into account the following factors:

- a. whether there are exceptional circumstances warranting additional support;
- b. whether the Commissioner could reasonably have been expected to take any action to avoid the circumstances which gave rise to the expenditure or liability; and
- c. whether the Commissioner's performance of their Commissioner functions will be significantly impaired by a refusal of the claim.

Under paragraph 1(d) of the Schedule to the Elected Local Policing Bodies (Specified Information) Order 2011, Police and Crime Commissioners are required to publish the allowances paid to them and to their Deputies in respect of expenses incurred by the Commissioner or Deputy in the exercise of the Commissioner's functions.
